CLUB IS ILLEGAL

CITY WINS CASE AGAINST DEMOCRATIC RESORT.

BARTENDER CRIPPEN FINED

CONVICTED OF VIOLATING CITY LIQUOR LAWS

MAGISTRATE TOOMBS UPHELD

County Court Administers Stiff Body Blow to Burns-Lombard Organization, Declaring That It Is Not a Legitimate Social Institution

City Attorney W. C. Robinson and the city administration won another victory in the crusade against the Democratic club yesterday when a jury in the county court in pursuance to instructions from Judge Robert Kerr returned a verdict of $100 and costs in favor of the city in its case against Charles Crippen, bartender of the club. This decision sustains that of Magistrate A. P. Toombs in the police court last month. The defense yesterday excepted to the court's instructions to the jury and also to the verdict. It was allowed 10 days in which to file a motion for a new trial.

The court in instructing the jury upheld Attorney Robinson's contention that the Democratic club was not of that class of clubs which some courts have held can dispense liquor to their members without a license. Judge Kerr also sustained the city attorney in his argument that the records of the first directors' meeting of the club which were submitted by the defense showed that only 10 out of 21 directors, or less than a majority, were present at that meeting, at which time the organization of the club was perfected. This renders invalid the by-laws and house rules of the organization since a majority of the board of directors must be present for the transaction of business.

An Important Point

[illegible] important part of the [illegible] however [illegible] organization [illegible] legal form the qualifications for membership as set forth in the constitution produced by the defense barred the Democratic club from the class of social clubs entitled through the rulings of some court to sell liquor to members.

The prosecution based its case on the [illegible] of a bottle of beer by Bartender Crippen to L. L. Mathis on November [illegible]. Mathis testified that he purchased the beer afterward drinking it at the [illegible] with a companion. The defense [illegible] to [illegible] to dispute this evidence and the [illegible] was whether the club was so [illegible] and conducted as to make it a strictly social club.

Organization Was Illegal

Attorneys S. H. Kinsley for the defense submitted a copy of the certificate of incorporation. This was admitted as evidence although Attorney Robinson [illegible] the defense then [illegible] to introduce the records of the first directors' meeting which resulted in the organization of the club. The court sustained the city attorney's objections on the two grounds that the presence of only 10 of 21 directors made the acts of the meeting illegal and that the membership qualifications [illegible] placed [illegible] the constitution [illegible] themselves rendered the club illegitimate.

The section in question [illegible] reads as follows:

"All male persons who [illegible] before or now are or who shall declare their intention to become affiliated themselves with the Democratic party and being otherwise mutually [illegible] qualified for membership."

Basis of the Decision

The city attorney pointed out that these qualifications place practically no restriction on the admittance of members and it was this portion of the club constitution which was submitted by the defense and which was [illegible] by Attorney Robinson [illegible] the court [illegible] its decision. The defense in its argument [illegible] liberally construed in many states and which [illegible] as the law. This [illegible] which have been organized [illegible] conducted [illegible] and [illegible] social, athletic, literary or other similar purposes to which the sale of liquor to the members [illegible] incidental [illegible]

[illegible] members without a license [illegible]

The prosecution point [illegible] difference between the [illegible] and membership clause in the [illegible] [illegible] the membership which the [illegible] constitution of the Democratic club [illegible] The [illegible] to the same extent as the [illegible] newspapers and the [illegible] was also [illegible] with [illegible] method of conducting the Democratic club.

Prominent Men Subpoenaed

The defense [illegible] members of the [illegible] organizations of the city with a view to showing that liquor is dispensed [illegible] these clubs [illegible] Hall, W. K. [illegible] P. Dodge, W. L. Tilton, [illegible] Buckman and James Cromwell as [illegible] of another of the leading clubs in Colorado Springs. Messrs. Hall, [illegible] Dodge and Tilton were put on the stand and testified as to their membership in the various social organizations. The court sustained Attorney Robinson's objection to the introduction of their testimony on the ground that it was entirely irrelevant to the case in question and put a stop to the introduction of evidence of this nature.

Another case of the city against Crippen which was won by the prosecution in the police court has been [illegible] is scheduled to come up for hearing in the county court this month. It will probably be continued until next month however owing to the absence of a witness.

City Attorney Robinson has lost only two out of the many liquor cases which have been appealed by the defendants to the county court. The success of the present administration in dealing with liquor violators [illegible] is shown by the fact that the cases won in the county court during the last two years are the only ones won by the city before a jury in this county during the first twenty years. And so far as is known in the history of the county the only other case won by the prosecution in the county court in recent years was tried without a jury, on an agreed statement of facts and not on the merits of the case itself.

ATTORNEYS SUE FOR FEES

Ask That Receiver Be Appointed for Princess Alice Mining Co

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 18.—Suit was filed today in the county court by Graham and Campbell, attorneys against the Princess Alice Gold Mining company and the Colorado Title and Trust company of Colorado Springs to set aside a conveyance of the properties of the company to the Princess Alice Consolidated Gold Mining company and also a mortgage given by this corporation to the Title and Trust company.

The attorneys are suing for $1,500 fees and have asked that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the mining company and properties. A hearing as to the receivership will be held January 2.

The company has properties on Guyot, Bull Cliff and Tenderfoot hills.

J. R. WALSH INDICTED

IS CHARGED WITH MISAPPLYING FUNDS.

Former President Chicago National Bank Indicted by Federal Grand Jury on 182 Counts

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank which was closed by the federal authorities December [illegible], 1905, was today indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge of misapplying the bank's funds.

The indictment contains 182 counts based upon transactions in memorandum notes which the government officials declare to be fraudulent upon [illegible] sales of bonds to the bank, it being claimed that these bonds were unmarketable and of doubtful value, and upon [illegible] payments [illegible] the money derived from these transactions.

The money derived from these operations [illegible] placed by Walsh to the credit of his personal account in the bank and used by him in aiding his outside enterprises.

The memo notes have a total value of $[illegible]. They were discounted between January [illegible], 1904, and February 15, 1905, and the total proceeds of $[illegible] were used, the indictment charges, by Mr. Walsh personally.

It is claimed that Walsh on 13 occasions sold at exaggerated prices to the bank bonds of the Southern Indiana Railway company, Illinois Southern Railway company, Wisconsin and Michigan Railway company and Mount Olive and Staunton Coal company, amounting to $822,2[illegible].

The indictment also charges that Walsh borrowed money from the bank on fictitious names and that he sold to the bank bonds of doubtful value.

It is announced by Mr. Walsh's attorneys that they expect to have little difficulty in clearing him. They declare the basis of any offense defined by the national banking act is criminal intent and that the defense will be that Mr. Walsh never did a criminal act or any act with a criminal intention.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 18.—J. E. Couper, who [illegible] the Tunnel Mining company for $50,000 damages for injuries received in a mine May 1 [illegible], was awarded damages this afternoon [illegible] $38,750.

Walter [illegible] party [illegible] the case went to the jury [illegible] against him was dropped.

Couper [illegible] hip injury [illegible] his right hip which greatly impaired his nervous system. One year ago he was awarded $[illegible] judgment but as neither Couper nor the defendant company were satisfied, a new trial was granted.

SENATE IS BEHIND

HOUSE FURTHER ADVANCED WITH BUSINESS.

"SHORT APPROPRIATION BILL"

UPPER HOUSE SPENDS DAY CONSIDERING MEASURE.

STEPHEN BECOMES SARCASTIC

Introduces Bill to Repeal Law Responsible for Board of Arbitration—Buchtel to Give Good Fellowship Banquet—Both Houses Adjourn

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 18.—Both houses of the general assembly followed custom today by adjourning to Monday. The ostensible reason was that the various committees might have the time to spend on committee work, in preparation of bills for action in committee of the whole. The real result has been that most of the members went to their homes tonight and will return to Denver Monday morning. Committees did some work during the afternoon and then adjourned also.

The house is really much further advanced in its business than is the senate. A senator from the farming district called attention to the matter this morning. He was not disposed to quarrel with the house for rushing its business ahead, confining his criticisms to the senate for its manifest hesitation in getting to work.

Most of the senate's day was spent in considering the short appropriation bill, which is an emergency measure to relieve the distress of the employes of the capitol. During the discussion Senator Stephen of El Paso discovered the existence of a board of arbitration. It led him to make some caustic references to the expense of maintaining an ineffective and inoperative branch of the government. Later in the day he introduced a bill to repeal the law responsible for the board. Its existence [illegible] state about $6,000 [illegible]

Mr. Stephen [illegible] from the expenditure.

To Reorganize State Militia.

Mr. [illegible] introduced a bill in the house to reorganize the state militia. The law is drawn in conformity with the Dick law passed by congress. It does away with the brigade formation of the guard and makes the adjutant general the real head of the guard. Fewer officers will be in service under the proposed new law which will try to cut off much of the ornamentation, making it more a soldier's body.

Representative Stewart of Douglas presented bills to punish those who conspire to force solvent companies into insolvency and to reduce the fees to be paid receivers. The immediate cause for the bill is the investigation being held by a legislative committee on the affairs of certain failed Denver bank.

Mr. Cannon introduced a bill to raise the salary of the game commissioner from $1,800 to $2,400 and to provide an assistant at $1,800 a year.

For Safety of Buildings.

Senator Stephen introduced a bill providing for the state regulation of buildings. Under the bill the height of buildings, their solidity and strength and the placing therein of fire escapes and safety appliances shall be a matter of state concern. One of the causes leading to the bill was the fire in Goldfield, Nevada, where I. M. Ellis of Denver lost his life.

The house passed the bill limiting the liability of hotel keepers for losses of property sustained by guests. At present hotel men may be held for almost any amount. Under the bill a limit of $[illegible] is placed on liability.

Buchtel Banquet

Governor Buchtel has invited the state officers and members of the legislature to a good fellowship banquet to be held January 31. Men only are invited as the governor stated that many of the guests would probably like to smoke and the presence of women-kind would restrict that pleasure.

[illegible] office of the state superintendent of public instruction those wishing to take advantage of the privileges of the Cecil Rhodes scholarships. Those examined: Donald Speck Tucker, Colorado college; Arthur S. Chenoweth, Frederick [illegible] Anderson, Samuel Jones Orr, University of Colorado; Carl Hewitt Voakes, Denver university; Carl Elmer Arnding, state [illegible] of Illinois.

BOARD'S ANSWER IS AWAITED

Definite Action in Test Proceedings of Jap Question Soon to Begin

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Since the refusal yesterday by Principal Mary A. Dean of the Redding school to admit the Japanese boy Aoki and the subsequent serving of a writ of mandate on her by the attorneys for the United States government, the test proceedings [illegible] the United States district attorney's office is [illegible] at a standstill.

The government [illegible] awaiting the next move which is to be made by the board of education. [illegible] Board and Miss Deane were served with a writ of mandate and also a writ in equity yesterday and documents filed in the California supreme court and in the United States circuit court. It is expected the board of education and all others interested in that side of the case will be prepared to file their answer within a few days and definite action will be begun by them early next week.

INDICTMENTS IN LAND FRAUD

Federal Grand Jury Makes Final Report and Is Discharged

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 18.—The federal grand jury which before the holidays returned indictments against Gould and Harriman corporations and individuals in their employ, charging violations of the interstate commerce law and fraud in connection with the [illegible] its final report to Judge Marshall in the United States district court and was discharged.

The indictment [illegible] Robbins, one of the [illegible] prosecutors in the state, [illegible] another is against Edwin Sem[illegible] all this. The men were [illegible] and will appear before the United States commissioner. They are charged with conspiring to secure [illegible] lands from the government by trading the land in question being in Emery county, Utah.

It is intimated that further indictments have been found in connection with land and timber matters and that the persons indicted reside in the state of Utah. One report is that the indictments [illegible] in connection with the alleged timber and lumber combine in the northwest.

FLOOD SITUATION BAD

SECOND RISE REPORTED IN OHIO RIVER.

Thousands of Families Are Homeless. Damage in Pennsylvania Heavy—Monongahela Falling

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—With a second rise reported at the headwaters of the Ohio the flood outlook tonight is gloomy. Towns along the river are suffering from crippled communications, limited fuel supply and a shortage of food. Thousands of families have been rendered homeless and many thousands of men are idle because of the enforced shutting down of the factories.

A number of cities are in darkness tonight because of broken gas mains, light plants, etc. Railroad, traction and city electric lines were generally crippled along the river. At Ironton more than a hundred families were driven from their homes. At Portsmouth, 1,000 refugees are in the schools and other vacant buildings and at Newport, Ky., three hundred families have had to be carried to a place of safety.

Governor Harris late today ordered a company of the Seventh regiment stationed at Manchester to guard the property of flood sufferers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—The flood situation in Louisville and throughout eastern Kentucky grows more threatening with each hour. Tonight at 9 o'clock the Ohio at Louisville registered 55.3 feet with a steady rise of about an inch an hour. Five hundred Louisville families have been driven from their homes.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 18.—At a late hour tonight the water in the Monongahela river reached a stage of 21 feet 9 inches, and is now stationary. Reports from upriver points are that the water is falling. At Greensburg, Pa., tonight the water fell three feet in one hour. The weather bureau says that within [illegible] hours the flood stage will be passed.

At the Springdale dam conditions have improved on account of the water receding. The government engineers have not succeeded as yet in blowing up the dam but expect by tomorrow to be able to do so.

The damage throughout western Pennsylvania will amount to many thousands of dollars. Over 10,000 [illegible] along the Monongahela river are temporarily out of work and high water at McKeesport has caused the suspension of several mills throwing over 2,000 men out of work.

Conditions in the Ohio river will be greatly improved by tomorrow.

JURY ACQUITS DYER

SON OF U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY NOT GUILTY.

Was Charged With Embezzling $61,500 of Government Funds—Verdict Received With Cheers

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—David P. Dyer, son of the United States district attorney and a teller in the local subtreasury, was tonight acquitted by a jury in the United States district court on a charge of having embezzled $61,500 of government funds. The jury was out five hours and the verdict was received with cheers, the court room being nearly filled with friends of the Dyer family and [illegible]

Dyer's defense was that while admitting that his books showed a shortage of the amount stated in the indictment and that he had falsified the records to cover the discrepancy, he had no knowledge of how the shortage occurred and that he had refrained from reporting it in the hope he could find and correct the mistake.

THREE TO HANG SAME DAY

Triple Execution at San Quentin on March 22

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—There will be a triple execution at San Quentin on March 22. John Siemsen and Louis Dabner, the gas pipe murderers convicted of the murder of M. Munakata, the Japanese banker of this city, were today sentenced to hang on that date, which had already been fixed for the execution of Louis Sieder, who killed his brother-in-law, Louis Blaise. Judge Cook pronounced judgment on Siemsen and Dabner today.

AMERICANS SAFE

NONE IS REPORTED DEAD AT KINGSTON.

SITUATION IS IMPROVING

AMERICAN WARSHIPS FURNISHING MANY SUPPLIES

LIST OF VICTIMS IS GROWING

Resident Section Is Totally Destroyed, and Monetary Loss Will Reach Into the Millions—The Streets Are Picketed With American Guards

The situation in Kingston seems to be improving. Order has been reestablished and the work of burying the dead and caring for the injured is progressing on an organized basis. The work of sending relief to the stricken city is proceeding with rapidity.

Kingston is receiving supplies as far as possible from the island of Jamaica itself. The American warships in the harbor have put on shore all the foodstuffs and medical supplies they could spare and the Jamaican authorities have taken charge of the distribution of all provisions in the city. In addition relief is being hurried in from outside quarters. The senate yesterday (Friday) passed a bill authorizing relief for the stricken island. The people of the British islands of Trinidad have sent a first installment of relief, the French government has started a cruiser from the island of Martinique with supplies, the Mansion House fund in London is growing rapidly and the British authorities are perfecting the details of relief on a large scale and in addition various other steamers are either on their way or about to start for Kingston with food, clothing and medicine aboard.

Tidal Wave Story Not Confirmed.

The report that a tidal wave had devastated the southern shore of Jamaica had not been confirmed up [illegible]. Cable communication with the island has been partly restored but even messages from Jamaica are coming very slowly.

The total estimate of deaths now is about 1,000. Great relief is afforded to all those who have American friends in Jamaica by the statement from the officer of the cable company at Kingston that up to [illegible] o'clock Thursday evening no Americans had been reported killed or severely wounded by the earthquake.

The list of known victims is growing and the names of no less than forty persons of more or less prominence in the Jamaican capital already have been given out as dead. About 20 well known people are either injured or missing.

The reports make no mention of further earthquakes and the [illegible] have been put out.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The state department today was furnished with copies of cable reports received by the Western Union from its Havana manager regarding the Kingston earthquake. One report says that the latest information was that no Americans were killed or seriously injured up to [illegible] o'clock January 1[illegible]. The report further stated that it was estimated that the number of dead would reach 1,000. These reports were furnished to the state department by President Clowry of the Western Union on its request for a statement of the situation. The messages are addressed to President Clowry and follow:

No Americans Killed

Cable ship Henry Holmes left St. Thomas for Jamaica with operators and instruments, also medical supplies. Latest information from Kingston reports no Americans killed or injured up to [illegible], on January 1[illegible].

Impossible to touch charred remains found in bad state of decomposition, necessitating cremating some of them. Estimated dead will reach 1,000, mostly negroes.

[illegible] escaped without damage. Governor [illegible] city gradually removing [illegible] people into country where water supply sufficient to meet all needs and preventing outbreak of contagious disease which generally follows such disaster.

Another message dated January 15 follows:

Cable ship Mi[illegible] due at Kingston today and will proceed to repair broken cable of Bermuda Jamaica cable about [illegible] miles from [illegible]

Channel Changed

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Jan. [illegible].—The steamer Thamar Bowke has arrived here from Kingston with 17 refugees, who in telling of the earthquake confirmed the [illegible] destruction of the principal buildings. The pilots dare not enter Kingston harbor owing to changes in the channel.

The Machado flour factory crumbled and 120 workers were killed. Supplies were greatly needed at Kingston. According to the passengers 5 square blocks of the city have been destroyed by fire. Every building within a radius of [illegible] miles was injured. The water works were destroyed. The casualties at the Myrtle Bank hotel were numerous. The Constant Springs and other hotels were damaged. The electric power house was destroyed and many persons were killed by coming in contact with charged wires. Along the water front the cracks in the earth are six inches wide. Superintendent of Posts Gardner is among the killed. Captain Young, commander of the Royal Mail steamer Arno, was killed at the Myrtle Bank hotel.

Ship Used as Hospital

The Arno was used as a hospital. Six, four legs and 15 arms were amputated on board. Three persons died on the Arno. There is great shortage of bandage material and women's clothing is being used for this purpose. There were only four doctors on the [illegible]

KINGSTON, Jam., Jan. 17.—(Thursday)—The streets of this city are now picketed with American guards. Admiral Evans at the request of the British authorities landed a force of marines from the [illegible] and Indiana.

Six hundred bodies have been recovered and more are being [illegible] found.

Dynamite is being employed to clear away the debris of shattered buildings.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Jan. 17.—(Delayed in transit.) The following is continuation of yesterday's dispatch describing the earthquake at Kingston:

The devastation caused by the earthquake becomes more apparent as time passes.

The shocks began at 3 p. m. Monday afternoon and lasted 25 seconds. The whole city rocked like a ship in a choppy sea. The shocks were most destructive along the harbor front where entire streets were leveled. Crowds of frightened people rushed northward seeking safety. Those who escaped reported that large numbers were buried under the fallen debris. In half an hour fire was rapidly spreading in the business section. The fire department was unable to stay the conflagration owing to the inadequate supply of water, the earthquake having broken the mains. The fire raged until Thursday afternoon. The buildings in the upper portion of the city are uninhabitable and the residents sought refuge in the public parks. Thousands are [illegible] are suffering from injuries. The work of rescuing the entombed people was continued Tuesday and Wednesday and many [illegible] were [illegible]. Attempts at looting were made but the military succeeded [illegible]

ACCIDENT OR MURDER?

DENVER POLICE HAVE MYSTERY TO SOLVE.

Two Cattle Buyers, Russian Jews, Found Dead—Victims' Heads Were Crushed In.

DENVER, Jan. 18.—Profound mystery surrounds the death of Tevye Bokser and Max Weissbler, Russians, whose dead bodies were found just before daylight this morning near the South Second street crossing of the Denver and Intermountain railroad.

The two dead men were cattle buyers and had been assisting Samuel Braun, another cattle buyer, to drive a cow which the latter had purchased. The animal was very wild and her antics caused the horse Braun was driving to become frightened and run away. Braun, according to his own story, followed the team leaving Bokser and Weissbler to look after the cow. Nothing more was heard of the two men by Braun, he says, until officers came to his house early this morning and arrested him. They explained that Bokser and Weissbler had been found dead with their skulls crushed in and that he was being arrested and held pending investigation.

The police are firm in their belief that the two men were murdered but for what reason they are unable to determine. What little money either of the men was known to have was found in their clothes and the only motive for murder the police can give is that a quarrel started between the two men and perhaps another and that the latter struck one of them over the head with a board and finding that he had killed him murdered the other man to hide his crime. To substantiate this the police took possession of a short piece of stout board found near the place where the bodies were discovered. Later in the day a cap thought to have been worn by [illegible] appeared. The police still [illegible] identified the cap as one he lost in a scuffle with would-be holdups on Wednesday night. The police say that Braun has told conflicting stories about his movements after leaving Bokser and Weissbler and declare their belief that he knows more of the cause of the death of the two men than he has told.

ONE KILLED; MANY INJURED

Santa Fe Passenger Train Collides Head-on With Freight Near Hutchinson, Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 18.—Santa Fe passenger train No. 4, eastbound, running between San Francisco and Chicago, collided head on with the second section of freight train No. 33 near Sylvia, Kan., [illegible] miles west of Hutchinson tonight. The engine and four cars of the fast passenger train were derailed. Engineer Martin Kerlin was instantly killed and a number of passengers were shaken up and bruised but none seriously injured. The freight locomotive and many freight cars were demolished. The engineer and fireman of the freight jumped and escaped serious injury. The demoralization of the telegraph wires and a heavy fog were responsible for the wreck. The names of the injured passengers can not be learned at this time.

LEAGUE IS FORMED

MOVE FOR CLEAN POLITICS IN COLORADO SPRINGS.

DEMAND NON PARTISAN RULE

PLAN TO TAKE ACTIVE PART IN SPRINGS CAMPAIGN.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN IN LEAD

Organization Formed at Meeting Held at Alamo Hotel Last Night. Object Is to Secure Honest and Efficient City Government

The Municipal league of Colorado Springs was formed last night at a meeting of nearly a hundred representative professional and business men and women of the city and the gauntlet fairly thrown down for a fight against machine politics in the furtherance of good government in the City of Sunshine.

The meeting, which slumbered at [illegible], league was held in the dining room of the Alamo hotel and the inaugurators, of whom many were women, earnestly voiced their views for good clean administration of the city's affairs and renewed allegiance to the principles of honest upright citizenship in the battle against vice, corruption, graft and graft which the city faces in the coming municipal campaign. An executive committee was appointed to further the movement and from it until the [illegible] committee will be a hustling [illegible] principles.

The movement [illegible] was started several weeks ago and a platform circulated which was [illegible] signed by [illegible] and [illegible] representing religious, professional, business and home interests of the city. The platform of the league is as follows:

The Platform

We, the undersigned citizens of Colorado Springs, believing that the best interests of the city will be observed by [illegible] regarding the political affiliations of [illegible] municipal office of candidates who show, [illegible] in their own lines of office, demonstrates their ability to attend successfully and honestly to the business of the city.

Second—That we favor an absolute disregard of national political lines in election to municipal office, basing judgment [illegible] competency and ability alone as qualifications for office.

Third—That we desire that all appointment to municipal office should be based solely on merit, with entire disregard to the political beliefs of the appointee.

Fourth—That we believe the business of the city should be conducted as any other business, honestly and economically and efficiently as possible.

Fifth—That we believe in the strict enforcement of all statutes and ordinances, including the ordinances [illegible] regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Sixth—That we believe in the due and proper regulation of public utilities according to law. We believe that all public utility corporations having contracts or relations with the city should be compelled strictly and rigidly to adhere to the terms of such contracts.

Seventh—That we believe that no franchise should be granted without a submission to popular vote, or without adequate return to the city or its citizens.

We urge the citizens of Colorado Springs at the next municipal election to vote for candidates upon these principles and to that end we hereby join and organize as the Municipal League of Colorado Springs to promote the selection and assist in the election to office of candidates favorable to these principles.

Temporary Organization Formed

The meeting elected Attorney Walter Scott temporary chairman and C. F. Wilder secretary. A committee of three was named to appoint the executive committee composed of the following:

F. P. Sauer, Walter Scott, [illegible] Pastorius, C. P. Dodge, E. W. Kent, D. F. Carpenter, John Harlan, H. H. Seldomridge, Dr. F. W. Work, Mrs. [illegible] Skinner, Mrs. Lulu Sinton, Mrs. D. A. Russell, F. F. Castello, Dr. C. A. Boyd and another woman member to be selected by the women on the committee.

The speakers enthusiastically praised the movement and offered their earnest support. Prohibitionists, Republicans, both Democrats and Republicans, the clergy, business and professional men and club women voiced their belief that the present city administration is the best the city ever experienced and that nonpartisan politics should prevail. Among the many speakers whose speeches in brief follow were H. H. Seldomridge, former Democratic state senator and prominent business man, who said:

"I think we all are in favor of continued good government along nonpartisan lines and sincere in the adherence of the principles put in force by Mayor Hall. The present administration has made a good record, the best record I think of any local city government. It is going to be a fight as to whether the lid is to be kept on in this city or whether it comes off. This is a nonpartisan movement and I believe that we will have all the better element with us and that we will win."

Professor William Strieby said: "I feel that there is great necessity for the continuance of the earnest work that will keep good men in office but we must push and push hard to get them there. The people want good government but there is so much dust thrown in a campaign that the voters do not know whom to vote for—who are the good candidates and who are the bad ones. It should be a function of the organization to give this information to the people. If they are [illegible]

THE MAY Co.

ACTION IS DEFERRED

BROWNSVILLE MATTER UP AGAIN MONDAY.

[illegible] Members of Both Houses Rising Vote Taken on Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The senate today deferred further action on the Brownsville matter until Monday. It passed a bill authorizing relief for earthquake-smitten Jamaica, agreed to a resolution directing an investigation of the "lumber trust" and passed a bill increasing the artillery corps of the army.

[illegible] the "lumber trust."

By a rising vote of 133 to 92 the house today adopted an amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which was taken from the speaker's table with senate amendments, increasing the salary of the vice president, speaker and members of the cabinet to $12,000 per year, and those of senators and representatives, delegates from territories and resident commissioner from Porto Rico to $7,500 per year, the increase to take effect on March 4, 1907.

Effort was made to have a roll call but only 34 members arose, which was not a sufficient number, so the house was not forced to go on record.

An urgent deficiency bill was passed, carrying a total of $344,650.

by people in whom they have confidence they will go and vote in a body for good men. If we can say, 'This is a good man,' they will support good men. They certainly want good men in office, for it means better streets, lower taxation, more comforts in our homes, more security to life and property and a general betterment of our welfare. We must closely scrutinize the candidates for office and find out if they are good men."

T. J. Fisher—"I have always voted the Republican ticket until two years ago, when I felt the need of a change in our municipal affairs, and I voted as many other Republicans did, for the independent ticket, and as a result, Mayor Hall was elected. I think that a city officer elected on an independent ticket can do more good because he is not bound by any party promises or machine ties, and is therefore independent and can treat all alike."

Mrs. Robert Kerr—"At the last municipal election the Women's club, desiring to ascertain the percentage of women who voted in Colorado Springs, put a representative at nearly every one of the polls. We found, when we counted up, that women polled 52 per cent of the votes in Colorado Springs. So I think that if we get the women of Colorado Springs with us in this movement that we will win."

Dr. J. P. Green, pastor of the First Congregational church—"I have lived here for the past 25 years, and the past two years is the best city administration we ever had. Mr. Hall has given us an administration of which we have reason to be proud. We can already see the elements of both parties that we are lined up against. We want to see the obnoxious vices held in check. They can probably never be wholly suppressed, but they must be held in check. If things are allowed to go back to what they were preceding the present administration, affairs will be much worse. We should conserve what we have gained. The election two years ago was won on a moral basis, and if it is to be won again it will be on the same basis.

"In electing a candidate we should remember two things. First, we want a man of character. Second, we want a man of ability and good judgment. It won't do to simply get a man of good business ability, nor to get a man of moral worth only. We want a man with the two elements combined."

NEWS OF THE LOCAL COURTS

Oliver Brooks, colored, an ashpit cleaner, was arrested yesterday by Humane Agent J. F. Neff charged with cruelty to animals. He was placed in the county jail and will have a hearing before Justice W. N. Ruby this morning. Neff, who has repeatedly warned Brooks to take better care of his horses, yesterday caught him driving a badly-lamed, half-starved animal. Brooks was recently fined $25 and costs for cruelty to children, Neff having arrested him for assaulting a boy.

Formal notice of the dissolution of the Pointer Gold Mining company, which was effected at a stockholders meeting in this city January 10, was filed with the county clerk yesterday.

C. D. Cooley has brought attachment proceedings in Justice Ruby's court on the paint shop and materials of Walter Best.

The Herrington Mercantile company yesterday filed suit in the district court to recover $439.70 alleged to be due from D. M. Friend and James Gillies, codefendants in the case.

In the district court, yesterday, H. G. Gilley filed suit against the Hayman Mining and Tunnel company to recover $5,000 for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained by plaintiff while employed in the defendant company's property in Park county, June 4, 1906.

INDIANS SLEEP AT CITY HALL

Two Redskins, Former Members of Carlisle Football Team, Apply at Police Station for Lodging.

Two full-blooded Arickaree Indians members of the Carlisle football team in 1904, arrived in this city from Rocky Ford, last last night, and on asking Patrolman Swanson for lodging, were directed to the police station. The men spent the night at the station, and will this morning resume their search for work. This is the first instance of an Indian spending the night at the police headquarters in this city.

The men are named Kolal Polles and William Couteau, and are 20 and 19 years of age, respectively. They say that they spent five years at the Indian school at Carlisle, Pa., and were members of the regular football team in 1904, after which they left school and removed to near Bismark, N. D. Polles played left end and Couteau right tackle on the eleven.

After their arrival in North Dakota the two youths engaged in stock raising. Desirous of seeing the west, they worked their way to Kansas, where they played on a professional football and baseball teams. At Pratt, Kas., they worked on a grading crew for the Rock Island. They endeavored to secure work at the Rocky Ford sugar factory, and, failing in this, came to Colorado Springs in search of employment.

CITY BRIEFS.

DOG POISONED—"Trouble," a dog belonging to Patrolman I. F. O'Neill, has been poisoned. No clue has been secured as to the malofactor.

NEW TEAM—The Colorado Springs police department has purchased a new team of horses for use on the patrol wagon. The animals weigh 1,100 pounds each and cost $400.

MINING LEASES—Sam Vidler and associates, of Cripple Creek, have secured a lease on the Ben Hur property, while Riley and associates, former lessees on the Mobile claim have taken a lease on the Hull City claim of the Santa Rosa company.

DOUBLES REVENUE—The Colorado Springs Electric company this year paid the city the sum of $248.12, a two per cent share of the company's gross earnings on the local heating plant. The company has previously paid the city one per cent of its gross earnings, but the amount is doubled, beginning with this year, according to the terms of the franchise.

FIREMAN RUPTURED—A. G. Elstun, of 1022 Colorado avenue, a member of fire company No. 2, has been taken to St. Francis hospital, where an operation will be performed for rupture. Mr. Elstun was recently injured while exercising the fire horses, but was at first thought to be sufficiently recovered to obviate the necessity of an operation.

PITTSBURG IS IN DARKNESS

Daylight Cannot Penetrate Fog and Smoke From Mills.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 18.—Daylight has not been seen in Pittsburg during the past 36 hours and there is little prospect of anything but midnight darkness for as many hours according to the weather bureau here. The phenomenon is attributed to the warm weather, fog and smoke from the mills and manufacturing plants, accompanied by absence of wind to carry off the obstructions.

NEVER BEFORE SO SEVERE

Western Canada Buried Deep in Snow. Railroads Blocked.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 18.—Never before in the history of western Canada have the snowstorms been so severe or the fall so heavy. Strenuous efforts are being made by the railroads to keep the lines open and the towns supplied with food and fuel.

Canadian Pacific railroad officials report there is fully a thousand empty cars in the Winnipeg yards, but they are of no use to relieve the situation as the lines are blocked.

BROKER CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Sells Goldfield Stocks Which Have Not the Value Represented.

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 18.—Miles Almy, a Chicago stock broker, was arrested here today on a charge of fraud, preferred by G. W. Burton of Goldfield, in connection with the sale of 10,000 shares of stock of the Boston Greenwater Copper company, which, it is alleged, was not of the value represented. Dr. J. Grant Lyman, a Pasadena physician, fled the city a few days ago, when a warrant came from Goldfield charging him with fraud in connection with the sale of the same block of stock. Lyman was accused of getting $11,000 under false pretenses. No trace of Lyman has been found by the officers, who have searched for him since his disappearance. Almy, who gave bond in the sum of $2,500, claims that he acted simply as a representative of Dr. Lyman, and that he received therefor a broker's commission of 2 per cent.

SPORTS

BAKER IS OUTCLASSED

ATTELL HAS BEST OF FIGHT AT ALL STAGES.

Champion in Great Form and Outclasses Opponent—Wins in Eighth Round.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Abe Attell knocked out Harry Baker of San Francisco in the eighth round before the Pacific Athletic club tonight, retaining the featherweight championship.

The champion was in great form and outclassed his man from start to finish. The fight was a fast one, but Attel was too strong from every standpoint for the San Francisco boy. Attel used every blow in the fistic category; his foot work was lightning fast, although Baker's ducking and covering up saved him for the few rounds the fight lasted. The seventh round should have really been the end of the fight. Near its close Attel sent a hard right cross to the jaw that knocked Baker seemingly lifeless across the ropes. As the referee started to count the gong sounded.

When the gong sounded for the eighth and final round, Baker held his arms to his face and vainly tried to cling to Attel, who swung a right on Baker's jaw, and the San Francisco boy sprawled lifeless.

During the terrific fighting in the second round Dewitt Vancourt ran along outside of the ring, shouting to the little fighter to get up. Attel in a frenzy rushed at Vancourt and slashed him through the ropes twice in the face with a right and left.

FLORISTS VS. PICKED TEAM

Bowlers Will Play Match Game Wednesday Evening.

George M. Bradley, manager of the Brunswick bowling alleys, has arranged a match game between the Florists and a picked team, for next Wednesday night. The match will be played on the Brunswick alleys. Arrangements are also being made for a return game between the Florists and a Denver team. The date for the match has not been decided, but it will probably be in a few weeks. A short time ago the Florists played in Denver.

Dave Finklestein, of the Hub Clothing company, entertained a number of guests at a private bowling party on the Brunswick alleys last night.

COMMITTEE TO HEAR CHARGES

Friends of Bailey Succeed in Securing Passage of Amendment to Duncan Resolution.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 18.—The lower house in the Texas legislature this evening adopted the Kennedy substitute to the Duncan resolution looking to an investigation of Senator Bailey and his connection and association with the Waters-Pierce Oil company. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 65 to 55 and is claimed as a victory by the friends of Senator Bailey. Provision is made for a committee to investigate any charges that may be made against the senator. The committee may hold sessions at any place, and has power to summon witnesses.

The resolution was offered by Bailey's friends as a substitute for the resolution originally introduced in an effort to obtain inquiry.

It was announced tonight that charges would be filed before this committee and that Senator Bailey would be given a chance to answer. A joint resolution was adopted providing for the election of a United States senator on January 22.

ANTI-PASS BILL PASSED.

Idaho State Legislature Takes Action—In Effect at Once.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 18.—The lower house of the Idaho legislature today, in committee of the whole, voted to pass an antipass bill, effective immediately after its passage and approval by the governor. This action was taken after Representative McCracken had help up to the view of his colleagues an annual pass over the Oregon Short Line and had declared that it was sent to him unsolicited last night, on the eve of the day the house was to vote on the bill, and that this was done to influence his vote. The house previously had recommended an antipass law to take effect January 1, 1908.

LEIGH WEAKENS ON SCAFFOLD

KINGMAN, Ariz., Jan. 18.—C. C. Leigh was hanged today in the jail yard for the murder of Jennie Bauters, a woman of the half-world, at Gold Road, in September, 1905. As he was being led to the scaffold he suddenly weakened and fell against the sharp edge of one of the jail cells, a great gash being cut in his head and rendering him partially unconscious. The officers carried him to the scaffold and held him up while adjusting the noose and cap. His neck was broken by the drop.

OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

What the Press Agents Say

HARRY WARD'S MINSTRELS.

A bright, clean minstrel performance, bubbling with new songs and novel specialties, was given by the Harry Ward company to two packed houses at the Opera house, yesterday afternoon and night. It was noticeable that not an old song or worn-out feature was to be heard or seen throughout the entire entertainment. The company carries about 30 white performers, and the crispness of the first part and the snappy way the entire program was rendered was refreshing in the extreme. Among the features to be mentioned are Jacobs and Sardel, acrobatic comiques; Professor Horne, with his remarkable educated canines, Master Carl Fletcher, a phenomenal boy soprano; Alexander, a monologist of exceptional merit; Parks & Zeno, eccentric dancers, and the bag-punching act of Cuttell. Taken altogether, the company is first class and deserves the patronage it receives. A matinee will be given this afternoon, and tonight's performance will wind up their engagement.

MISS ELLIS JEFFREYS.

Leading Lady in "She Stoops to Conquer," at the Opera House Next Tuesday Evening.

"SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER."

Probably the most important dramatic event of the season is that arranged to take place at the Opera house next Tuesday, when William H. Crane and Ellis Jeffreys put in their appearance with their excellent company in a magnificent revival of "She Stoops to Conquer." Both Mr. Crane and Miss Jeffreys have won an enviable success in this quaint old offering, and from present indications, the local patrons of the theater will have an opportunity to witness something unique in the dramatic line. Mr. Crane is returning to the role of Hardcastle after a period of over 23 years, and Miss Jeffreys is again taking up the part of Kate Hardcastle, in which she won such instant success while leading woman at the Haymarket theater, in London, with Cyril Maude. Both of them are admirably fitting for their parts and they have for their support an excellent company, which includes George Giddens, the best-known Tony Lumkin of the stage; Walter Hale, who has won a superlative position for himself; Fred Thorne, who comes of a family of famous comedians; Clarence Handyside, who has appeared in many important plays at any time during the last 25 years; Fanny Addison Pitt, an actress of long experience; Margaret Dale, who has been associated with John Drew for some seasons as his leading woman, and many others of theatrical importance.

"KING RICHARD THE THIRD."

John Griffith is announced to appear at the Opera house on next Wednesday evening, in Shakespeare's tragedy, "King Richard the Third." His management promises an excellent company, complete scenic and electrical equipment, and all else that is needful to insure a performance that will delight the lovers of classic plays. Mr. Griffith's portrayals are strenuous and intellectual. He has lungs, physique and discretion, and many critics are very enthusiastic over him. He draws big audiences, interesting them very much and compelling admiration by his vigorous and sincere work. He is the best of our living, native-born tragedians, an enthusiast in his profession, and deserves the excellent position he has attained. He will draw a very big audience [illegible] on account of his high standing as an actor and his very great personal popularity.

ED M'COLLUM CONVICTED

Found Guilty of Stealing From Martin Drug Company.

Edward McCollum, colored, was convicted on the third of three counts against him, by a jury in the district court last night. The introduction of evidence on both sides occupied the entire day, and a night session was held for arguments of counsel and the court's instructions to the jury.

McCollum is a boot-black, and is convicted of stealing money from the safe of the F. H. Martin Drug company's store, 26 South Tejon street, on the night of November 4. The first two counts against him were those of burglary with and without force, while the last count, on which he was convicted, comprised a charge of larceny. Although approximately $300 in money and checks was stolen from the safe and cash drawer, the jury returned a verdict that the prisoner was guilty of the larceny of $84.75, this being the amount found at his home in a money bag belonging to the drug company.

A. C. FRISTOE BOUND OVER

Released on Bail of $500—Potter Complaining Witness.

Justice O. E. Dunnington yesterday bound over A. C. Fristoe to the district court, the prisoner being released on bail in the sum of $500. W. A. Potter is the complaining witness, and the case has been repeatedly continued, with a view to effecting a settlement out of court.

Fristoe and Potter, armed with an ax and a revolver, respectively, engaged in a duel, December 9, over the affections of Mrs. Minnie M. Pilloud. The battle was fought on the rear porch of Mrs. Pilloud's boarding house. Fristoe was shot through the knee and Potter's skull was fractured as a result of a blow over the head received from Fristoe's weapon. Mrs. Pilloud was accidentally shot in the thigh. All recovered, although Potter underwent an operation and sustained the loss of the frontal bone over his right eye.

While holding both men equally to blame, Justice Dunnington said that he was obliged to proceed according to the law in the matter, and bound over the only defendant against whom a warrant was sworn out. Fristoe has not taken action against Potter.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

Governor Hughes May Address Colorado Branch Next Summer.

The recently-organized Colorado branch of the New York society is arousing considerable interest among former residents of New York state who are now living in Colorado Springs. The Colorado branch is less than a month old, but it already has a membership of more than 100. New members are being secured in this city by Dr. J. R. Robinson, who is being assisted in the work by S. H. Kinsley, Ira Harris and J. A. Elston.

The principal objects of the society are to promote good fellowship among members, foster loyalty to New York and entertain notable persons from that state.

The society plans to hold a mammoth New York state picnic at some central point in Colorado during the coming summer and if possible secure the attendance of Governor Charles E. Hughes of New York.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Colorado Springs Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, blood-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Colorado Springs proof:

[illegible] Nevada avenue, Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "For years I was subject to kidney irregularities, the secretions from these organs being too frequent, especially at night when from having to arise three or four times, my rest would be greatly disturbed. The quantity was variable at times being excessive, while again scanty, and frequently there was a distressing retention. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co. They quickly corrected these difficulties and great improvement in my physical condition was noticeable."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

AN INSIDIOUS DANGER

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble, as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. All dealers.

BIG DEAL RUMORED—An unconfirmed report was circulated here yesterday to the effect that Denver capitalists have purchased the half interest of Michael Burke in the Henry Adney mine, on the Beacon hill. The reported consideration is $75,000. J. H. Hobbs, of this city, who was in Denver yesterday, is said to have negotiated the deal.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB LOSES ITS CASE.

IT SEEMS that the troubles of that eminently respectable "gentlemen's resort," the Democratic Club, are not yet ended. A few weeks ago its distinguished financial backer and literary representative was inditing numerous manifestoes to the press in which the public was assured that the joint was above reproach morally, legally, politically, and otherwise. He had made a personal investigation, with a mind free from prejudice, and had arrived at this conclusion only after thoughtful consideration of the law and the evidence. But now comes the County Court, in the person of Judge Robert Kerr, and reverses Mr. Burns' decision with regard to the legal aspect of the case.

The most important point in Judge Kerr's ruling is the distinction between legal and illegal clubs with regard to membership qualifications. Under the extremely loose restrictions imposed on applicants for membership in the Democratic Club, it is possible for almost anybody to join. Here is the club's constitution, bad grammar and all:

"All male persons who have heretofore or now are, or who shall declare their intention to hereafter affiliate themselves with the Democratic party, and being otherwise suitable persons, are qualified for membership."

Even this loose provision is not strictly adhered to. The usual procedure by which a new member is taken into the Democratic Club has been something like this: The applicant tells the bartender, the general manager of the "drunk room," or whoever he happens to meet first, that he wants to join this select organization. He is given an application blank which he signs, and this solemn ceremony ended, he pays fifty cents and thereupon becomes a full-fledged member. The fifty cents pays his dues for two months, and if he wishes to continue to avail himself of the numerous and exceedingly liberal privileges of the club he is expected to contribute at the rate of twenty-five cents monthly. However, if he doesn't feel like making this financial sacrifice, no questions are asked. They are not very particular about the collection of dues at the Democratic Club; the principal thing is that the members come around regularly and spend their spare cash with the barkeep. According to testimony brought out in a recent case in court, the revenue from dues averages about $15 a month, and from liquor sales $1,400 a month. As the club has a membership of 700 it is apparent that only about 1 per cent of the members pay dues.

Judge Kerr's decision that such lax membership restrictions are in themselves sufficient to preclude consideration of the club as a legally organized and conducted resort has the merit of sound common sense, and in that respect particularly is in marked contrast to a recent decision rendered here in a similar case, in which the portraits on the walls, the furniture, etc., were cited as proof of the regularity of the place. Another fact brought out by the prosecution, which shows the utter flimsiness of the defendant's contention, is that only ten of the twenty-one directors were even present at the meeting when the organization of the club was perfected.

The court's decision in this case is a distinct personal triumph for City Attorney W. C. Robinson, who has prosecuted it with his characteristic courage and tenacity. It is no small achievement to win a case of this kind, where the securing of reliable evidence is extremely difficult and every contention must be proved beyond all possibility of controversy. With a man of less determination in the office of City Attorney the prosecution of this notorious joint would probably have been dropped long ago, and the people may well be thankful that Mr. Robinson has displayed in this case the same qualities that made his handling of the drug store liquor cases so successful.

COLORADO SPRINGS AND CONSUMPTIVES.

ABOUT a week ago we published a letter in the "Open Parliament" column signed "T. J. S." in which doubts were expressed of the wisdom of advertising Colorado Springs as a resort for consumptives. This letter provoked a reply from "A Mother," who objected strongly on humanitarian grounds to the views of "T. J. S." Today the writer of the first letter has another communication further explaining his position. He thinks that "purely as a commercial problem" it is as unwise for Colorado Springs to advertise its advantages as a resort for consumptives as it would be for a hotel to advertise that it already had a number of guests who were victims of tuberculosis.

It seems rather extraordinary that such a discussion should arise at this late day. Colorado Springs has been doing business at the old stand for more than thirty-five years, and it has always been primarily a resort for consumptives. From the very beginning its people recognized the wisdom of making known to the world the peculiar advantages of the climate for the relief of this distressing malady. Of course it would have been impossible to prevent these advantages being known, even if any considerable portion of the population had so desired, but the wisdom of reaching out for health-seekers was never questioned. That anybody should question it now is due to a failure to appreciate several very significant facts.

We believe that fully 80 per cent of the people of Colorado Springs (we do not refer to those who were born here) came to obtain relief from tuberculosis either for themselves or for a relative. If the reader thinks this estimate is too high let him make a few inquiries among his own acquaintances, and we venture to say that it will soon be confirmed. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that Colorado Springs was settled by consumptives, that its immigration has been made up largely of consumptives, and that most of its leading citizens came here as consumptives.

This statement may sound alarming, but it isn't at all. Most of those early-comers, who came here from the East years ago under the doctor's instructions to make the most of the last six months they had to live, are with us today, strong, healthy and [illegible] can hardly bear any more resemblance to the picture of a typical consumptive conjured up by the imagination of an Eastern "tenderfoot" than James J. Jeffries bears to a "before taking" picture in a patent medicine advertisement. So it will be in a few years with the majority of the friends who have lately come here from the East. Of course those who waited until they were in the final stages of the disease before coming here can not reasonably hope that even this climate will give them long life, but it is a perfectly safe assumption that those who come in the incipient stage will recover at least a sufficient degree of health to enable them to attend to business and live in comfort; provided, of course, that they observe ordinary precautions with regard to habits of life.

The suggestion of a large sanitarium made by "T. J. S." is a good one, and we hope that not one, but many, such institutions will be built here. But whether we have more sanitariums or not, Colorado Springs is, always has been, and always should remain, the objective point of people afflicted with tuberculosis. To them it is a matter of life or death; to the city it means progress, greater population, and greater development. Reliable statistics compiled by the Health Department show that the supposed evil effects of their presence are mostly imaginary, as when reasonable precautions are observed, they do not communicate the disease to others. Colorado Springs should continue to advertise its advantages as a resort for tuberculosis victims, just as it has in the past, except that it should do it on a more extensive scale.

Press Opinions

AN IMPORTANT CAR SHORTAGE.

From the New York Mail.

The worst car shortage is of passenger coaches that will not splinter to fragments in even slight collisions.

THE BIGELOW BOAT.

From the Kansas City Journal.

A boat on the Panama lake which Poultney Bigelow said didn't exist is named the "Poultney Bigelow." The president saw the lake and it is understood that he rocked the boat.

BUT JOHN BULL NEVER FED US.

From the New York Press.

The egotistical Britisher writes: "Britons have been the dominant factor in the making of the United States. They have given them their language, their laws, their literature, and to a large extent their traditions and their breadth of mind. It was from Britain that the Americans got their first ironworks, cotton mills and railroads. Hundreds of millions of British capital has poured into the country, and British skilled labor laid the foundations of most of their trades."

CANADIAN PRESUMPTION.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

The cool proposition of our Canadian friends to limit the flow of water into the drainage canal to 10,000 cubic feet per second and to use the drainage canal matter as a club against the United States government in commercial relations is not a bit surprising. The Canadians are not bashful to begin with; and, having been invited to meddle in a purely American matter, it is natural that they should get all they can out of it.

In point of fact the folks on the other side of the border have no more right to dictate the volume of the drainage canal than they have to say how much water Chicagoans shall use in their bathtubs or coffee pots. The whole thing is preposterous.

TIMBER FOR WINE CASKS.

From the Washington Post.

"The growing scarcity of timber suitable for the manufacture of staves is a problem that confronts two continents and in which all the wine-drinking world, and therefore the civilized world, is concerned," said a stave grower and shipper of Hope, Ark. "Timber best suited for manufacture into staves comes from Arkansas and small portions of Louisiana, Texas, Alabama and Tennessee. The timber has been cut in larger amounts every year to meet the growing demand. Prices have advanced of course, but the demand still advances, for no other wood can take the place of that produced in our section. Most of the staves are shipped to Barcelona, Spain, where they are used in the manufacture of wine casks. Both Europeans and Americans have tried to invent something to take the place of the stave, but so far without success. Glass and earthen casks have been tried, but wine does not age the same in these receptacles and it has quite a different flavor."

Open Parliament

MR. VAILE'S ADDRESS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The writer was present and listened with interest to the thoughtful and stimulating address of Mr. Vaile before the Winter Night club, which you publish this morning, and in which Mr. Vaile criticised the positions taken by President Roosevelt in his recent Pittsburg speech, and by Secretary Root in his Waldorf speech.

Subsequent rereading of those speeches has but confirmed the impression of the writer last night, namely, that there is a nonmeeting of minds between the critics and the criticised. Certainly we should consider Mr. Root's Waldorf speech in the light of his subsequent explanation, and that of the president in the light of, or in connection with, his messages. As Colorado's recently elected senator has observed, "all just criticism is beneficial," and that of Mr. Vaile, both in manner and substance, being fair, can not result otherwise than in good and must be productive of a better understanding all around.

As we understand Mr. Vaile's criticism, the gist of his complaint is that both the president and his able secretary of state advocate what is practically amendment of the federal constitution by "judicial construction," rather than the method of amendment plainly marked out in the constitution. If any court, or any judge, should be guilty of stretching the plain meaning of the constitution or the universally accepted meaning and definition of any word or group of words in the English language, that court or that judge would be false to his oath of office, and a corrupt coward. Some detached sentences in the speeches of both president and secretary excoriate certain federal judges who are charged with taking a too narrow view of the powers granted by the federal government; both contend earnestly for the broad interpretation, but neither, so far as the writer has been able to discover, advocated stretching the federal powers by "judicial construction," beyond that plainly implied in the language of the constitution. Indeed either in his Pittsburg address, or in his last message to congress, the president, while urging legislation on certain subjects, said certain laws ought to be passed if the constitution permitted, and if they were unconstitutional, the constitution ought to be amended to permit of the passage of such laws. Surely this expression is directly contrary to any notion of amendment by "judicial construction."

The president complained, in his Pittsburg address, that, by the rulings of certain federal judges, the practical result was that lamentably great gaps were left between national and state authority over certain great matters where some governmental control was absolutely necessary, whether by nation of state; he indicated that such control ought to be vested in the nation, and already was vested in the nation, if the constitution was fairly and not narrowly construed. He further stated that the states had refused to exercise this control in some cases, and that the federal courts had declared the states did not have such control in other cases. He further declared that it was the clear intention of the framers of the constitution that there should be no gaps, no hiatus, between federal and state powers; that if the state did not possess the necessary powers, then the nation did. The president concluded by remarking: "I can not do better than base my theory of governmental action upon the words and deeds of one of Pennsylvania's greatest sons, Justice James Wilson." Now, in the actual framing of the constitution, Wilson was a more potent influence than Hamilton, Adams, Jefferson, or even Washington. Such is the unanimous judgment of the men of that time, and of leading judges and publicists of this time. Both the president and Mr. Vaile defer to him. Therefore, to properly understand what the president meant, and intended to say, we must resort to what Wilson said. In his famous letter to Washington, Wilson said: "Neither vacancies nor interferences will be found, between the limits of the two jurisdictions (nation and state). For it is material to observe that both jurisdictions together compose or ought to compose only one uniform and comprehensive system of government and laws."

Again, Mr. Vaile states that the distinction between state and national governments is that the state has general powers and the nation only delegated powers. Generally speaking, there is no doubt about that distinction, but here, again, let us revert to the great constitution framer and interpreter, followed by Hamilton, Webster and Marshall, and by President Roosevelt and Mr. Vaile. In an argument on the articles of confederation (a far weaker instrument than the constitution) Wilson said:

"Though the United States in congress assembled derive from the particular states no power, jurisdiction, or right, which is not expressly delegated by the confederation, it does not thence follow, that the United States in congress have no other powers, jurisdiction, or rights, than those delegated by the particular states." "Whenever an object occurs, to the direction of which no particular state is competent, the management of it must, of necessity, belong to the United States in congress assembled. There are many objects of this extended nature."

These declarations of Wilson constitute the chart and compass of President Roosevelt's ship of state. Whether we like to admit it, or not, the constitution of the United States, as we have it today, construed, is a growth. As Von Holste observes in his "Constitutional History," "It was necessary that the constitution should be highly elastic in its nature. Its terms must be susceptible of great extension or contraction of meaning, according to the want of the moment. A more brittle bond would infallibly be broken. This is not a matter of speculation. The whole history of the United States from 1789 to 1861 demonstrates it."

In construing that much discussed interstate commerce clause of the constitution, Chief Justice Marshall, in the great Gibbons vs. Ogden case, said: "The wisdom and discretion of congress, their identity with the people, and the influence which their constituents possess at elections are in this, as in many other instances, the sole restraints on which they have relied to secure them from its abuses."

Again, as indicative of what constitutes interstate commerce, and what objects or subjects enter into it (a point touched upon by Mr. Vaile), and the wide latitude allowed by the constitution to congress, not only in regulating commerce, but in actually designating what shall be objects of interstate commerce, the supreme court has lately said: "No reason is perceived why, if congress chooses to provide that certain designated subjects of interstate commerce shall be governed by a rule which divests them of that character at an earlier period of time than would otherwise be the case, it is not within its competence to do so."

"The March of the Constitution" is the significant title of the address of a recent president of the American Bar association; it is believed that President Roosevelt had only this "March" in mind, believing that both nation and state should "March" up, and so close together that no legitimate subject of governmental control could escape between them. Nearly every president has confined his appointments to judges of his own political persuasion, but we believe none have ever required of an appointee that he pledge himself to construe the constitution thus and so, and it is believed no such requirement will be made. The country does not want men who would "by a process of judicial legislation wholly unjustifiable" (Justice Peckham in Trans-Mo. Traffic Ass'n. case), disqualify themselves to act before they took the oath. The country does not want any of the judicial despots of whom the illustrious Judge Caton spoke: "Some men delight in holding all strings in their own hands, holding others entirely at their mercy, that they make a merit of justice and call it generosity."

In so far as Mr. Vaile reprobates assumption of power by judicial construction, all right-minded men must heartily agree with him; the judicial will must never be substituted for, or confused with, judicial duty. The true rule was marked out by the great Chief Justice Marshall: "The judicial department has no will in any case. The judicial power is never exercised for the purpose of giving effect to the will of the judges; always for giving effect to the will of the law."

N. M. CAMPBELL.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 18.

COLORADO SPRINGS AS A HEALTH RESORT.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

In looking over back numbers of The Gazette, which had accumulated during a ten days' absence, I find in the issue of Wednesday, the 9th, a protest signed "A Mother." God bless that good woman and all others who experience what, no doubt, she is passing through. In the absence of experience, no one can know how often the cup of bitterness is pressed to the lips of those who watch and wait over loved ones similarly afflicted. If there is any good thing in climate or else in this world for sufferers from the "white plague," or especial joys in the next they are entitled to all of them. But the question under discussion was not one of human sympathy or compassion one for another. It was a point raised by an editorial in The Gazette by Dr. McKay's letter and by the editorial reference to what the Chamber of Commerce was doing to advertise to the world Colorado Springs as a resort for sufferers from weak lungs, purely a commercial problem. As a business man, viewing it from that point alone, I took issue. For illustration, suppose the Antlers, the Alamo or Elk hotel, or any of the others should accumulate a number of sick people as guests, and advertise for more; how long do you suppose the other class of business would hold on? I was applying this thought to the city at large.

Now if the city had a sanitarium for those afflicted, we could all boost for that, but in my humble judgment it would be a commercial blunder to advertise Colorado Springs as a hospital or haven for the sick. This part of Colorado, as is already generally known, is decidedly well suited in climate to the relief and perhaps cure of the disease, yet other districts in the Rocky mountain region farther south have given better results in some cases, but that feature is not under discussion. T. J. S.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 18.

BOSTON.

From the Buffalo Commercial of 1886.

Know ye the land where the eyeglasses glitter,
Where the barefooted small boys, the maidens who titter,
Are at home in the forms of alphabets of thought?
Know ye the land where the wildly loved pumpkin
Hits its real perfection and flavor attains
Where the foreign-born guest and the visiting pumpkin
Can eat of the beans and enliven their brains?
Where the fox hunter gallops, with hounds on the trail,
And winds up the chase by reposing in jail;
Where the love of the truth, the hunger for pie,
Keep the restaurants busy, though prices are high?
Where the sons of the Puritan, nightly arrayed,
Take unbounded delight in St. Patrick's parade?
'Tis the land of the Northeast, where Ben Butler hides,
And Kelly, the fielder, in splendor abides;
Where the hearts of the virgins that tenderly glow,
Are as big as the tracks that they leave in the snow;
Where spring is a season of unmingled joy,
And senators seem to be lowest in price;
But sweet as the joys of which lovers partake
Are the pies that they cook and the clams that they bake!

MOST REMARKABLE MIDGET.

She Performs Work Without Hands, Elbows or Knees.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

Miss Sallie Kleinginne of Mohnton, Pa., is in some ways the most remarkable person in the state from the fact that, though less than four feet tall and deprived of her hands, elbows and knees, yet she manages to do her own work and earn her own living, a feat which many who are blessed with all their limbs often find sufficiently difficult.

Miss Kleinginne was born handless, elbowless and kneeless and what she calls her arms are only stumps about eight inches long, the left stump being the shortest.

The feet are attached to the legs where the knees ought to be. Neither foot has more than three toes.

This brave woman resides in a comfortable little home which she keeps spotlessly neat and clean. She is 38 years old and is one of a family of thirteen children, eight of whom are now alive and all of whom were perfectly formed at birth except herself.

From experience she has never known what it really means to have hands and knees. Yet, disabled as she is, she lives alone in the house her parents bequeathed her, not only performing the daily house work thereof, but supporting herself in modest comfort by her needle. There are few kinds of fancy work that Miss Kleinginne can not do and this she sells to the many persons who come to visit her. And then she has friends who now and then help her out with gifts, though these are never solicited.

She Avoids Accidents.

"Early to bed and early to rise" is part of her gospel. From childhood she has dressed herself. As her dresses button up the back, with the stumps of her arms she first slips them over her head, open side front. Next she raises the dress to her mouth with her stumps and with her teeth buttons it. This operation completed, she slips the garment round on her body to the right position, last of all passing her arms into the sleeves.

She is now dressed and comes down stairs carrying a large coal oil lamp, placed between her chest and one of her stumps. She is very careful in handling the lamp and has never had an accident. When she needs a light she removes the globe of the lamp with her right stump, and, putting a match between her teeth, strikes it by rubbing it against a board, after which, with a quick motion of her head, she applies it to the wick. The town has electric lights and some of her friends are collecting funds to wire the house to make it perfectly safe for its plucky but disabled occupant.

To see Miss Kleinginne perform her toilet is said to be one of the most remarkable things of its kind in the world. She manipulates the washrag in such a way that it comes in contact with every portion of her face and neck. Her hair, which she wears short, she combs by fastening the comb in the crevice between one of her inside shutters and the window sill. She then places her head against the comb. In a short time her hair is combed and parted as neatly as if she had done it with her hands.

Her kitchen fire is now burning brightly. What will Miss Kleinginne have for breakfast? Eggs, probably, which she will either boil or bake. When she bakes them she first places the egg between her right arm and her cheek and knocks it against the wall to crack the shell and the yolk drops out accurately into the frying pan.

It is still more remarkable to see her eat. She cuts her bread and meat by holding the knife between the right stump and cheek. She then balances the knife on the stump and in this way carries the food to her mouth.

She washes her dishes by whirling them around in the washpan. Her kitchen she sweeps by placing the broom handle between her right arm and her cheek. When mopping the floor of her house and the stoops, which she does with water and a broom, she rests the top of the broom handle on her right stump, bearing down with her left. But scrubbing with a regulation scrubbing brush is a task impossible to this woman of resources. On the contrary, this is one of her easiest "stunts," as all she has to do is to fasten the brush to one of her feet and walk about. Similarly she blackens her stove by mounting that piece of furniture, placing a foot through the handle of the blacking brush and shuffling about for a few minutes.

Able to Write and Sew.

Can she carry coal? As easily as she carries water. When she needs some water she takes the bucket and, going to the hydrant, fills it, hanging it on the stump and walking off with it as easily as if she had a hand to grasp it with.

Not least among the accomplishments of Miss Kleinginne is the way in which she writes and sews. She manages all her own correspondence. Of course, she insists on opening her own letters. When a reply is needed she gets a sheet of paper, places a lead pencil between her right stump and her cheek and away speeds the pencil, the writing being almost as rapid and quite as legible as that of the average person. She has also learned to write with her toes, but prefers the other method as being easier.

It is a lesson in patience, energy and will power to watch this woman at her needlework. In handling the scissors she is an adept. She places the part of the scissors intended for the thumb between her teeth, and with her right stump she works the part of the scissors intended for the hand. So well does she operate the same that she cuts out the garments in a remarkably short time. After the cutting is done she bastes the garment together. A thread is secured, one end of which is placed in her mouth, and in an instant she makes a knot with her tongue, and still more curious, the knot is at the extreme end of the thread, so that none is wasted. The other end of the thread she now twists around a growth on her stump. She is now ready to insert her thread into the eye of the needle. Next the needle is fastened into the table cover and the thread is inserted. When it comes through the eye of the needle she grasps it with her teeth and pulls it through. Sometimes she holds the needle between the toes of her right foot. When she sews she uses her toes and teeth. Her garment is now ready for the sewing machine. If the machine is not threaded she secures a spool of thread. Moistening her arm, the thread adheres to it, and in this way it is held until inserted in the eye of the machine needle. With wonderful rapidity she operates the sewing machine, not sitting to sew, but standing in front and operating the footrest lever, while with her arm stumps she guides the garment.

Famous for Her Flowers.

Miss Kleinginne does a vast amount of needlework and often sews on the machine for a whole day without getting tired. She is fond of making crazy patchwork quilts and cushions, which bring good prices.

Outdoor work, such as whitewashing her fence, she delights in. She is famous for her flowers, which blossom in such a way as to make her neighbors almost jealous. Vegetables, too, grow at her bidding—in fact, as a florist and gardener Miss Kleinginne would have achieved reputation and fortune had fate been kinder to her. Perhaps, though, she would have elected to be a professional cook, for she is considered an expert in the culinary art, making a specialty of pies and custards.

What with her taste for music, her love of reading and her interest in her church, Miss Kleinginne lacks not for an interest in the higher things of life. By means of a long-pronged piece of wood, which she holds between her teeth, she plays a number of sacred tunes on the piano. She reads the papers daily, subscribes to several magazines and is a constant reader of the Bible. Miss Kleinginne is devoted to her religion. She is a member of Zion United Evangelical church of Mohnton, belongs to the Sunday school, Woman's Missionary society and Christian Endeavor society, attends the various meetings regularly and is considered one of the most earnest workers in the denomination has in Mohnton. She says of herself that God has given her gifts that others know nothing of, a statement that receives justification from the fact that what she does she seems to do by intuition, seldom being able to explain how or why she does a thing in a certain way. Add to this that she is always happy, sweet-tempered and eager to do her duty and one can gather that many a woman physically perfect falls below the standard attained by this intrepid midget.

SURPRISE TO THE OFFICE BOY.

From the Philadelphia Record.

In a certain large and busy office downtown there are five telephone booths and it takes a good deal of the time of one office boy to answer the many calls. During rush hours, indeed, these calls are almost incessant, and when the duty of attending to them was assigned to a new boy the other day he got into trouble right away. Before answering a call he learned that the party at the other end was the wife of one of the members of the firm. He called this member out of his office and told him his wife wanted to speak to him on the phone. The member, approaching the booths, asked: "Which one?" "I'm sure I don't know, sir," replied the boy. "I didn't know you had more than one."

DON'T WEIGH IN PUBLIC.

From the New York Sun.

"I never get weighed in public places any more," said the thin woman. "The ceremony draws too big a crowd. Just as sure as a person begins to dally around a weighing machine she becomes a magnet for all the idlers in the neighborhood. They cease their chatter and their aimless staring and crowd around trying to read the figures. Then they keep up a fire of comment. 'Gee,' says one, 'I didn't think she'd go that high.' 'I thought,' says another, 'that she'd weigh a little more than that.' And the person who sinks a happy medium these criticisms are perhaps not unwelcome, but for the one who overshoots or undershoots the mark the ordeal is not pleasant."

APOLLO WINS DEBATE

COLLEGE APOLLONIAN CLUB DEFEATS PEARSONS.

Makes Third Consecutive Victory. Young Men Celebrate With Feast in Honor of Debaters.

The eighth annual debate between the Apollonian clubs of the Pearsons Literary society of Colorado college, held in Perkins hall, last night, resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Apollonian club.

The question debated was:

"Resolved, That in disputes between labor and capital in public utilities in the United States there should be compulsory arbitration. Provided, That special courts may be organized having jurisdiction over such cases."

The affirmative was upheld by Pearsons, represented by James I. Muffley, H. D. Roberts and William Jackson, Jr. The Apollonian club was represented by Gleason C. Lake, J. K. McClintock and James Calhoun, who upheld the negative side of the question.

J. K. M'CLINTOCK.

G. C. LAKE.

JAMES CALHOUN.

The presiding officer of the evening was T. K. Urdahl of the college. The judges of the debate were Orlando B. Wilcox, Dunbar F. Carpenter and George M. Irwin, all of this city.

This makes the third consecutive debate that the Apollonian club has won from the Pearsons society and places the club three ahead of Pearsons in the number of debates won since the series was commenced, eight years ago.

The Apollonians celebrated the victory with a rousing jollification at the club house, and later went to Tucker's, where the debaters were the guests of the club at a dinner which had been ordered as soon as the decision of the judges was given.

SHOW CLOSES TODAY

PRACTICALLY ALL AWARDS HAVE BEEN MADE.

Veditz Wins Ivory Soap Special. Large Attendance Is Expected Today and Tonight.

Practically all the awards at the tenth annual exhibition of the Pike's Peak Poultry association have been made. The winners in the Buff Leghorn, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Rhode Island Reds, Bantams and pigeon classes will be announced today.

G. W. Veditz was yesterday awarded the Ivory Soap special Evita cup for the whitest fowl, offered by Procter & Gamble, Cincinnati, O. The loving cup offered by the Denver Chamber of Commerce for the first pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks, was awarded to L. S. Harner. Dr. W. A. Shephard for the third time won the silver water set for the highest scoring pen in all classes, owned by a member of the association, solid-colored fowls being handicapped four points. The Frances Cowles challenge cup offered by Philip B. Stewart, for the largest and best exhibit of Wyandottes, any variety, went to L. L. Johnson.

Colorado Springs poultry fanciers will have an opportunity to visit the show at 118 North Tejon street, for the last time today as the exhibition closes this evening. A large attendance is expected today.

Taking quality as a standard, the present show is the best ever given by the association. Judge Helmlich yesterday said that one of the Silver Spangled Hamburg pullets, owned by J. W. Gilles, was the best he had handled during the last seven years. Among other fine specimens are exhibits in the Barred Plymouth Rock classes. Considerable interest has been manifested both by children and others in the exhibits of pigeons and bantams. The pigeon exhibit is among the best ever seen in Colorado Springs.

The list of special awards follows:

Silver cup offered by Denver Chamber of Commerce for first pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks, L. S. Harner; challenge cup for largest and best exhibit, any variety, G. W. Veditz; the Pilgrim's challenge trophy for the largest and best display of Plymouth Rocks, G. W. Veditz; the B. G. NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

DR. CORBETT COMING

MODERATOR OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO VISIT SPRINGS.

Will Conduct Series of Meetings Here Next Week in Which C. E. Bradt of Chicago Will Assist.

The Presbyterians of Colorado Springs will entertain as a guest of honor next week the Rev. Hunter Corbett, D. D. LL. D. Dr. Corbett is the present moderator of the general assembly, the highest office in the power of the Presbyterian church, to confer. He has spent nearly a half century in China as a missionary, and his election to the moderatorship was a tribute, not only to his character as the "grand old man" of Presbyterianism, but also to his fifty years of service in a foreign land. Dr. Corbett justly ranks among the most eminent Americans living. He will be accompanied in his visit by the Rev. Charles E. Bradt, D. D., of Chicago, and the two visitors will spend three days in Colorado Springs. During this time a series of meetings, afternoon and evening, will be held in the Presbyterian churches of the city, to addressed by the visitors.

Their visit will be initiated by an interesting event at the First Presbyterian church next Monday evening, at 7 o'clock, when a hundred or more Presbyterian men of the several churches will sit down to the "Moderator's banquet," which will be given under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the First church. During his stay in the city Dr. Corbett will be the guest of his personal friend, D. Wilson Moore, 1140 Wood avenue. Dr. Bradt will be the guest of his old college associate, the Rev. Edgar W. Work, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

IN MEMORY OF LEE.

Ex-Confederates of This City to Hold Memorial Service Today.

Throughout the south and in many sections of the north, memorial services will be held today in memory of General Robert E. Lee, who was born on January 19, 1807. The few ex-Confederates living in this vicinity, the descendants of Confederates, and others who would like to take part in the services, are requested to meet for this purpose at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Members of the G. A. R. are invited. Short addresses will be made by J. D. Shewalter, Murat Masterson and others.

ONE DOLLAR PER MONTH

Will keep your clothes pressed. Hunter, 111 North Tejon street. Phone 1364.

BETTER WATER SERVICE

East Side Will Benefit by Improvements Now Being Made.

Superintendent Hopkins of the city water system has received five carloads of 12-inch water pipe, which will be laid on Hancock street, between Cache la Poudre street and Pike's Peak avenue. The main from the high line reservoir has been conducted to Cache la Poudre street, and the extention to Pike's Peak avenue will complete the circuit to Prospect lake. This will result in better water service and higher pressure for the entire east side.

CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION

Theodore Stewart Arrested but Afterwards Released.

An unusual case came before Justice O. R. Dunnington yesterday, when Theodore Stewart, aged 24 years, a painter of this city, was arrested by Constable Harvey Gillingham on a charge of abduction, preferred by Mrs. J. R. Maunder, a dressmaker in a Colorado Springs dry goods store. The complainant charged Stewart with aiding her 15-year-old adopted daughter, Clifton Maunder, to escape yesterday morning from her home at 432 East Kiowa street.

Investigation developed an unusual case of mutual infatuation between the girl and Stewart. The former claims she is 17 years old, although her foster mother insists that she is but 15. Stewart aided Constable Gillingham in locating the girl, and she was found at 126 South Institute street. Clifton will not attend school, according to her mother, and is determined to marry Stewart. The young man is equally in love with Miss Maunder. He is a widower and has a child three years old.

The case against Stewart was finally dropped, and an agreement reached whereby he is allowed to visit Clifton Maunder once a week, in the presence of her adopted mother. The girl has lived here for many years, and was adopted by Mrs. Maunder eight years ago. Stewart has also lived in Colorado Springs for several years, and has always borne an excellent reputation. Mrs. Maunder is separated from her husband who is in Trinidad.

RESULT OF NEGLECT

VAGRANT RESISTS ARREST

Officer Patton Forced to Knock Down John Doyle.

John Doyle was arrested yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the alley back of the City Drug store, on East Huerfano street, by Officer Patton, for begging on the streets. When he saw that he was being followed by an officer, Doyle, who is said to have been intoxicated, ran, and when he was overtaken, showed fight. Patton was forced to knock him down and sit upon him until the patrol wagon arrived. After he was placed in jail, Doyle continued to create a disturbance. When Captain Hoffman ordered him to keep quiet, Doyle asked:

"Who are you?"

"I am the captain here, and if you don't make less noise, I'll come inside and help you," replied Hoffman.

"If you come in here, you'll be a lieutenant when you get out," retorted Doyle.

FUNERAL HELD—The funeral of Richard C. Jefferson, who was murdered in Colorado City Thursday morning, was held from the residence, 738 North Spruce street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Robbins ON THE CORNER

CAN'T MISS GOOD ORE

PHARMACIST COMPANY PRACTICALLY SURE OF STRIKE.

Should Enter Shipping List Within Next Three or Four Months Sinking Shaft Rapidly.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 18.—The sudden jump or activity in the Pharmacist stock has led some to believe that a strike has been made by the Pharmacist Leasing company, a Colorado Springs corporation. From the best information obtainable, this is not true. The company only has 40 feet more sinking to do, when the shaft will be over 600 feet deep. At this point development work will be started to cut dykes that are known to traverse the property. This leasing company can hardly miss good ore, and it is thus, in fact, probably that has started some buying on a dead market. The shaft which is being sunk by Dave Mason for the Pharmacist Leasing company is square-set and the work of sinking the shaft, which is under contract, is being rushed as rapidly as possible. The Pharmacist Leasing company ought to be able to cut the Shurtloff-South Burns ore shoot besides one or two other veins that are known to cross the property at depth. The Pharmacist should enter the shipping list in the next three or four months.

SCHEDULE OF ORE PRODUCED

Assessor Is Determining Assessed Valuation of Ore in District.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 18.—County Assessor T. D. Foster has sent out schedules to all owners of properties, secretaries and presidents of companies asking that they return a schedule of the ore produced, the gross and net returns for the year 1906. On these figures the assessed valuation will later be made. No mine is considered a producing property that has not shipped ore to the value of $5,000 or more.

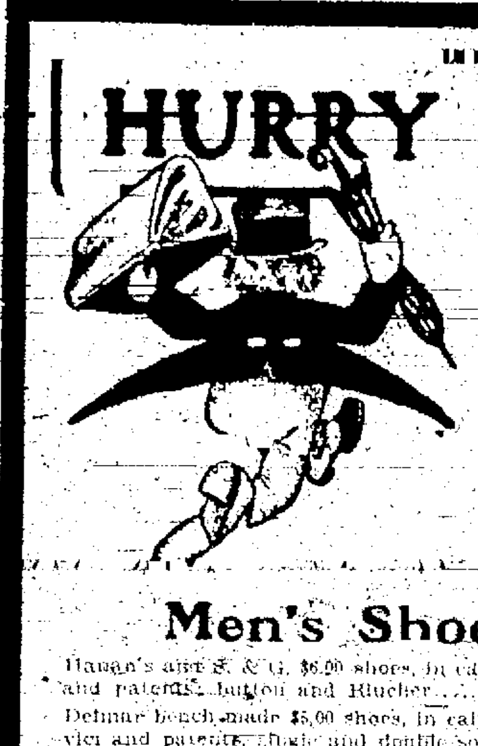

The law makes it mandatory that the blank schedules be sent out on January 1, and that a return be made by January 15, but the time is too short and very few properties are able to comply in the time limit. Quite a number have, however, been received.

CLARA D. AT A STANDSTILL.

Breakdown in Anaconda Mill Causes Congestion.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 18.—The Union Leasing company, operating on the Clara D. claim of the Lexington, is at a standstill. The ore bins are full to overflowing and there are hundreds of tons of ore broken in the mine. The cause of the congestion and practical suspension of operations was a breakdown in the Anaconda mill. This will soon be repaired and the work of handling the ... and ore will be resumed. The ore is giving values of from $8 to $12 in gold to the ton.

WEAKNESS IS GENERAL

STOCK MARKET IS SERIOUSLY DEPRESSED.

Only One Good Rally Is Enjoyed When Shorts Take Profits and Reduce Their Lines.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Clouds of depression gathered over the stock market today and the weakness, which has been spotty and intermittent hitherto, became general and acute. This was a result rather of a crystallization of sentiment on current topics of discussion than of a present factor in the situation. Moreover it became evident that large activities were traceable to a professional party of operators on the bear side of the market. This party showed every evidence of skillful organization and aggressive leadership and there was a general disposition to attribute its generalship to a veteran operator whose activities have been dormant for a long period. The bold methods pursued by the newly organized party is shown by the widespread proclamation made at the opening of trading of the plans for the day, including special pressure to be directed against United States Steel and Union Pacific. It was explained, moreover, that this plan of strategy was intended to be directed against what seemed to be the Port Arthur of the market, with a view to securing the key to the position. While professional short selling was clearly traceable in the day's market, the vulnerability of values confirmed the views of the bears and proved the existence of the conditions on which they based the attack. Instead of encountering opposition or any effective support for securities attacked, the fall in prices intensified the pressure of the liquidation and gave much of it the appearance of urgency, which always gives currency to rumors of financial stress about the stock exchange.

The course of the foreign exchange market discourages hopes of any effective relief for our money necessities. Sterling exchange was strong here today.

Stocks enjoyed one good rally in the afternoon, when shorts took profits and reduced their lines but another determined drive against the market dislodged heavy stop-loss orders and caused a threatening slump in the St. Paul, the Harrimans, the Hills, Reading, the Amalgamated Copper. The closing was in consequence much unsettled and feverishly active.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value $2,477,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

REPORTS FOR WEEK IRREGULAR

Business Affected by Varying Temperature—Manufacturing Returns Favorable—Dun's Review.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Trade in winter fabrics improved as the weather becomes more seasonable, but reports for the week are irregular on account of varying temperature. Improvements in the traffic situation were checked by snow blockades and the best railway authorities state that expanding needs of the nation can only be met by a much greater expenditure of new track and rolling stock than has yet been contemplated. Clearance sales have made good progress, and new business for spring delivery is coming to jobbers and wholesale houses in large volume, while collections show some improvement.

Manufacturing returns could not well be more favorable, contracts in many cases covering deliveries in 1908.

A few labor disputes are in progress, but most wage earners are fully employed and several liberal advances in pay are announced. Northwestern flour mills have increased production until there appears an increase over last year's figures, but shipments abroad are unsatisfactory.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for January amounted to $5,230,345, of which $2,353,918 were in manufacturing, $2,530,800 in trading and $305,627 in other commercial lines.

WHEAT MARKET WEAK

LIQUIDATION IN PIT BECOMES GENERAL.

Corn Weakens on General Selling and Closes Weak Oats and Provisions Take a Drop.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—General selling, the greater part of which was in the nature of realizing, caused weakness today in the local market for wheat, corn and oats. At the close wheat for May delivery was down 3-8. Corn was 1-8@1-4 lower and oats 1-4 lower. Provisions showed a net loss of 7 1-2@12 1-2.

Liquidation in the wheat pit became quite general about the middle of the session and the market was subjected to a considerable selling pressure during the remainder of the day. The early market was steady because of a good demand by commission houses. Shipments from Argentina for the week were liberal at 1,896,000 bushels against 640,000 bushels for the corresponding week last year, but this factor was offset by the continued small receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth. Other factors responsible for the selling movement were a report by a St. Louis trade journal that the fall-sown crop is far advanced, and the smallness of weekly clearances from the United States.

Both local and outside longs sold freely during the last hour, offerings being taken mainly by commission houses. The market closed easy. May opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 77 cents to 77 1-8 cents, sold up to 77 1-4 and declined to 76 1-2 cent. The close was at 76 5-8@76 3-4 cents. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 267,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 433,000 bushels, compared with 608,000 bushels for the same day last year.

Because of the unsettled weather throughout the central states, the corn market was firm early in the day on demand from commission houses. Later the market weakened on general selling and closed easy. May opened unchanged to 1-8 higher at 45 1-8 to 45 1-4, sold at 45 3-8 and then declined to 44 3-4. Final quotations were at 44 7-8@45.

Profit taking by prominent bulls caused free and general liquidation in the oats market, resulting in moderate declines. May opened unchanged to 1-8 cent higher at 38 to 38 1-8 sold at 38 1-4 and declined to 37 5-8. The close was at 37 3-4.

Trading in provisions was dull and the market was inclined to be weak because of the weakness in coarse grains. At the close, May pork was off 12 1-2 cents at $16.47 1-2. Lard was down 10@12 1-2 cents at $9.42 1-2@9.45. Ribs were 7 1-2 cents lower at $9.10.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 50 cars; corn 322 cars; oats 143 cars; hogs 25,000 head.

Selig and Associates Open Large Body of Low Grade Ore Through Chicago Tunnel.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 18.—Adolph Selig and associates, operating through the Chicago tunnel about 2,000 feet from the portal on the Fairview claim of the Stratton estate, have opened up a large body of ore which gives intermittent assays. The operators are now developing the shoot which is from 35 to 40 feet wide. Some exceptional assays of a high grade have been uncovered, but apparently the entire shoot will run about one ounce in gold to the ton. The lessees are following on the ore in the hope that it will improve in quality. The ore shoot was uncovered at an approximate depth of 600 feet from the surface and was found with the first few rounds of shots fired. The rock is refactory and the lessees will not attempt to make any shipments until the ore shows better values than at present. The indications are good however, that these lessees have uncovered not only an immense shoot of ore, but that the grade will get better, which is indicated as the work progresses.

There is considerable work in progress through the Chicago tunnel and several sets of lessees are sending out weekly shipments. The values vary from one to two ounces. Mrs. J. H. McGee, perhaps is the most successful operator in this section at the present time.

HOW TO AVOID PNEUMONIA

You can avoid pneumonia and other serious results from a cold by taking Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough and expels the cold from the system as it is mildly laxative. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. All dealers.

OPEN UP PROMISING VEIN

Renon And Associates Find Forty-Dollar Ore on Mineral Hill.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 18.—Renon and associates, operating in a shallow shaft about 100 feet deep or less, has opened up a nice looking vein on a claim on Mineral hill. The assays indicate that the ore will run from $30 to $40 in gold to the ton. Development work is now in progress although a little ore is being saved while dead work is being done. The vein is in place and the indications are quite good for the finding of a shipper on this hill.

RISING BREAST

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain. No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. Our book "Motherhood," is worth its weight in gold to every woman, and will be sent free in plain envelope by addressing application to Bradfield Regulator Co. Atlanta, Ga.

PREACHES FAREWELL SERMON

Dr. A. N. Thompson Leaves Today for Northern Colorado.

Dr. A. N. Thompson, who has been preaching for the past week in the First Presbyterian church, delivered his closing sermon last night. His work in this city has been productive of good, both in the church and outside of it. His long residence in Northfield, Mass., has brought him in very close contact with the movements started by the great evangelist, the late Dwight L. Moody. Dr. Thompson preaches the gospel simply and earnestly, and with good effect upon his hearers. He leaves this morning for the northern part of the state, where he has several engagements to fulfill. The spirit of these gospel services, however, will be continued in the Sunday services, both morning and evening, when the pastor of the church, Rev. Edgar W. Work, will preach.
